“Green Needs YOU!” Enlist in the LGIP Volunteers Today

Join a corps of 250 dedicated Live Green in Plano (LGIP) Volunteers who make Plano cleaner and greener. Beginning Monday, Jan. 23, LGIP Volunteer Training classes are from 7 to 9 p.m. on six consecutive Monday nights. The final class is Monday, Feb. 27, and just in time to get involved at the Learn 2 Live Green (L2LG) event on Saturday, April 14 at The Shops at Legacy.

All training classes are held at the Environmental Education Center located at 4116 W. Plano Parkway at Commerce Drive. Space is limited, but classes are FREE! Act soon, enlist to serve your planet at livegreeninplano.obsres.com.

"The word is out and we are having a great response," said Deb Bliss, volunteer coordinator. "If you want to live a greener life, join LGIP's 12-hour volunteer training program."

What's in it for you?

- Discover great resources in your classmates and speakers.
- Become an expert on Plano's environmental services,
- Join Plano residents to make a positive difference locally, and globally

LGIP Volunteers are teenagers and adults willing to spend 24 volunteer hours to maintain demonstration gardens, raise organic food for area food pantries, speak to civic organizations and homeowner's associations on topics such as water pollution and energy efficiency, work with Scouts to earn badges, teach school children, lead tours, staff the Household Chemical Reuse Center, label storm drains, organize green teams at their office, and provide essential staffing at L2LG.

The LGIP Volunteers program taps into your skills and trains you to share sustainable lifestyle information with the entire community. Register now at livegreeninplano.obsres.com.
