Texas Pure Products Named Composter of the Year

The US Composting Council named Texas Pure Products Composter of the Year. The City of Plano established Texas Pure in 1992 in partnership with three other member cities: Allen, Frisco, McKinney, Richardson and the North Texas Municipal Water District.

The compost they produce is made from feedstock collected from groceries, markets and "back of house" preparation of food and yard trimmings.

Awardees are nominated by peers and honored each year at the US Composting Council's Annual Conference and Tradeshow. This year's program was held at the Renaissance Hotel, Glendale, Arizona.
